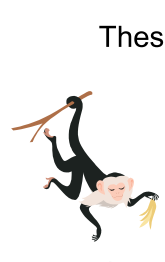
" I'm an HR Professional, Get Me Out of Here!": A Survival Guide for Employers, Supervisors, and Managers.



These are indeed tough and uniquely challenging times. As an employer, you are right in the middle of things. You need to hire, train, and maintain the right workforce. You need to motivate, compensate, and evaluate your employees. At times, do you feel like you are stranded in a jungle of issues and entangled in seemingly endless vines of employment laws and regulations? Do not worry, you are not alone. You have tools, resources, and other members of the HR tribe who are here to help you. In this interactive program, well-known labor and employment lawyers Liz Bailey, Jeff Nolan and Jim Reidy will review important legal developments facing employers. They will then test your knowledge, instincts, and HR survival skills. This presentation should be another fun and informative program that will help

This program has been submitted and approval is pending for 7.5 hours (General) recertification credit hours toward PHR, SPHR and GPHR recertification through the HR Certification Institute.
